PREFACE

This report is one in a series on Soviet Ground Force and Logistic installations being prepared for a DIA CIA Panel. The series is being coordinated, published and disseminated by NPIC. The photographic analysis is being performed by the NPIC Photographic Analysis Group, the CIA Photographic Intelligence Division (NPIC), and the Production Center 1P1c (DIA). The photographic analysis for this particular report was performed by the Production Center 1P1c.

In the interest of uniformity, the titles and letter designators for the facilities observed at these installations are identical with those appearing in the project requirement. When a specific facility is not observed both its title and letter designator are omitted in the report.

Titles and letter designators for the various facilities are as follows: (A) railroad service, (B) road service, (C) landing strips, (D) administrative and troop housing areas, (E) storage areas, (F) ammunition storage areas, (G) POL storage areas, (H) other buildings and facilities, (J) equipment storage/maintenance areas, (K) athletic fields, (L) small arms firing ranges, (M) driver training areas, (N) tank/assault gun firing ranges, (P) flat trajectory firing ranges, (Q) artillery emplacements (batteries), (R) infantry or combined arms field training areas or courses, (S) special training facilities, (T) unidentified facilities or tracking activity.

SUMMARY

A small double-secured explosives storage area is located approximately 10 kilometers (km) west of the center of Astrakhan and 5 km south of the main runway of the Astrakhan NW Airfield (Figure 1). Its exact role cannot be determined; however, it may be associated with a military installation in Astrakhan or the Astrakhan NW Airfield, or it may be used for storing explosives for the numerous mines to the south.

The installation, covering approximately 15 acres, contains an explosives storage building, 2 small storage buildings/bunkers, and a guard hut (Figures 2 and 3).

Fifteen missions have covered the area since [ ] There has been no change within the installation; however, the main road into the area from Astrakhan was built between [ ]

DESCRIPTION OF INSTALLATION

Road Service

The installation is served by a good all-weather road from Astrakhan.

Aircraft Landing Strip

Astrakhan NW Airfield is 5 km north.

Ammunition Storage Area

The installation contains an unrevetted explosives storage building, 2 explosives storage buildings/bunkers, and a guard hut.
